

Subject: Pre-Arrival Orientation for International Students (Required)

University of Rochester

As you plan to join the UR community, it is important that you feel prepared and understand the requirements of your US immigration status and availability of campus services.

The International Services Office (ISO) has developed the TIPS On-Demand: Tools for Immigration and Preparation Support program to share relevant information specifically with incoming international students. TIPS On-Demand serves as ISO's Pre-Arrival Orientation and is required of all new international students sponsored by ISO.

The details covered in this program directly align with the International Student Orientation Program (ISOP) delivered by ISO as part of Simon Orientation.

We hope that these tools will be useful for you, and we eagerly look forward to welcoming you in Rochester! To access this online training, please visit the ISO Pre-Arrival Orientation organization in Blackboard under "My Organizations." You may log in to Blackboard at <https://learn.rochester.edu>.

Regards,

The staff of the ISO

Note: Please visit the MBA or MS Admitted Student Portal to view our communication archive and make sure you are up to date on important emails regarding onboarding deliverables.