

Adan Sheikh

Nairobi, Kenya • +254 (0) 797 663 505
a.h.sheikhaden@gmail.com

Economist/Financial Analyst

Talented and dedicated analyst with a wide background in economics, finance, and monetary policy. Innovative researcher and writer, equally skilled at intricate data analysis and broad applications of theory. Project leader who communicates well peer-to-peer as well as with upper management, including CEOs and CFOs. Experienced in analyzing and evaluating companies' financial performance and sustainability. Well-versed in policy development. Fluent in English and Kiswahili.

Areas of Expertise

- ◆ Macroeconomics
- ◆ Monetary Policy
- ◆ Econometrics
- ◆ Management Theory
- ◆ Corporate Finance
- ◆ International Finance
- ◆ Fundraising
- ◆ Quantitative/Qualitative Research
- ◆ Financial Markets/Derivatives
- ◆ Statistical Analysis
- ◆ Mergers & Acquisitions
- ◆ Team Building

Experience Highlights

Research Assistant

2021-Present

Serve as a member of an intercollegiate research team investigating the impact of the East African Community Common External Tariff (CET) on domestic prices, wages, and welfare of households in Kenya--one of the world's first studies on tariff impact since the creation of CET. Collect and analyze data. Communicate with lead study author, Justin Mogendi.

Kenya Freedom From Hunger Fundraising Intern

2014

Helped organize fundraising campaigns. Researched and contacted potential donors. Investigated new fundraising markets. Served as key member of fundraising strategy team. Collaborated with fundraising staff in other offices.

- Improved access and data integrity of donor database.
- Conducted special research into donor trends and funding alternatives.
- Received recognition for contributing to donor growth and retention.

Education

Master of Science in Economics

London School of Economics and Political Science

Bachelor of Science (Honors) in Mathematics and Economics

University of London (distance learning)

Bachelor of Arts (Honors) in Finance

University of Manchester (Dean's Achievement Award)

- Received Dean's Achievement Award

Technical Expertise

- Excel
- Word
- PowerPoint
- Outlook
- Stata
- E-views
- R (programming language)
- Bloomberg